DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 31-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kofflin (US. 5,355,917).

Kofflin discloses a method for securing a preconditioned air connector, the method comprising coupling a first member (12) to a non-pivotable hook member (6) via an engagement member (engagement member that are pins to connect the hook to the first member), pivoting the first member having an arcuate camming surface (arcuate camming surface defined on the bracket between the first member 12 and 15) in a direction generally tangential to a body, the first member being pivotably coupled to the body and driving the non-pivotable hook member in an axial direction (axial direction of the hook traveling up and down) with respect to the body via the interaction between the engagement member and the camming surface, such that the camming surface defines the axial position of the second member. The method comprising coupling the connector to a preconditioned air source and routing the preconditioned air source (see abstract). The method having step of coupling the connector to an aircraft (see abstract). The method further having step of supporting the first member via an integrated bearing structure of the body (see abstract).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-2, 5-16, 17, 19-20, 22-30 and 36-38 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 3/13/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants' argument that Kofflin fails to disclose "pivoting the first member having an arcuate camming surface in a direction generally tangential to a body, the first member being pivotably coupled to the body" is not persuasive because the first member is 12 which is connected to body 1 by plate 8, the first member is pivotably coupled to the body, the first member is connected to a hook member via an engagement member (engagement members that are pins or connection pins that join the first member 12 to member 15), the first member having connecting pin holes that connect the hook member via a member 15 to the first member 12, the pin holes are the arcuate camming surface that cam the first member tangentially to the body and make the hook move axially.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

Art Unit: 3673

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
